

Spring Formal Protocol

Each spring, local directors may offer a formal event for Challenge I-IV students. This is not a prom or a dating event; it is a chance to learn and practice the proper protocol during formal events.

“I pray our students will one day be world leaders and ambassadors to unsaved peoples, and I want them to know what to expect.” —Leigh Bortins, Classical Conversations Founder

Directors and parents arrange a formal meal at a local country club or upscale restaurant. You may choose to have a photographer there to take professional pictures. Afterwards, students attend a formal cultural event like an opera or symphony. This chaperoned event is very popular among our Challenge families. Let your community’s Challenge directors know if you are interested in arranging this event for your community.

Learn More About Protocol:

Protocol Matters

Sandra Boswell

Etiquette and protocol are ways of showing Christian love and kindness in small ways. This book is a must-read for parents and teachers who wish to recover the “social graces” for the next generation of believers.
